

12TH CROSS-DISCIPLINARY WORKSHOP WEEK ON SUSTAINABILITY

“Caring for the planet amidst a climate and health crisis: solutions and alliances for simultaneously protecting both our health and the environment”

23, 24, 25, 27 & 27 November 2020

The aim of the 12th Cross-Disciplinary Workshop is to reflect upon how we are caring for the planet in the current context of the climate and health crisis, from a cross-disciplinary perspective. This year’s Transversal Sustainability Workshop will focus on Goal 17 of the United Nations’ Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): Partnership for the goals. The objective is not only to reflect upon and analyse the current situation, but also to seek solutions and foster alliances to protect both the environment and our health.	PROGRAMME 25 November 10 a.m. – 11 a.m. Virtual round table: What can I do in the face of the climate and health crisis? Click on the following link to register to attend the virtual roundtable: Speakers: Dr Pastora Martínez. Vice-Rector for Globalisation and Cooperation at the UOC Antonio Cerrillo. Environmental journalist for La Vanguardia Garazi Sánchez. Professional surfer, two-time Spanish champion
Through student presentations and by listening and conversing with experts from different fields, this year’s workshop will explore issues such as: What effect has the arrival of the health crisis had on the climate crisis? Health crisis and climate crisis: opportunity or disaster? What is the social and environmental impact of the rise in teleworking in our society? What are the dangers and consequences of climate change on our health? Is the current situation a warning from Mother Nature? How can we help curb climate change in our daily lives? How does global warming affect our health? Which consumption habits help mitigate climate change? Are we still able to curb climate change and its consequences? If so, how?	23, 24, 25, 26 & 27 November Online presentations of the interactive workshops and posters on the theme “Caring for the planet amidst a climate and health crisis” by UIC Barcelona students from the subjects to which their projects are related.
