- 14/06/2024 Ignasi Grau, director of OIDEL, presents the 2023 Freedom of Education Index results at UIC Barcelona
Freedom of education, a human right

During his speech, Ignasi Grau insisted that the Universal Declaration of Human Rights established in 1948 that freedom of education was a human right and pointed out that "the father or mother had a preferential right to choose the form of education that would be given to their child." That was why it was important, according to Grau, to protect this right.

According to the specialist in educational policies, "the disconnection between the educational project and family values was traumatic." Accordingly, he stressed that "societies were increasingly pluralistic, so it was very important to take into account cultural identity and that education had to be linked to it."

- 15/07/2024 Interdisciplinarity is main theme of the 8th conference of the Catalan Universities Service Learning Network
The Faculty of Education Sciences of UIC Barcelona hosted the eighth edition of the Service Learning Conference. The event took place at the Sant Cugat Campus and this year the focus was on the visibility of interdisciplinary service learning projects between subjects or degrees. Representatives from different Catalan universities participated.

The conference concluded with a workshop on interdisciplinary service learning. This was an opportunity for attendees to share their experiences in teams through a dynamic game of creativity and dialogue.

- Workshops

- 4/10/2023-5/10/2023 Face-to-face workshop: Self-knowledge and professional development

What is self-knowledge and how does it influence personal development?

Self-knowledge was essential for professional and personal development. The foundation of a good job search was self-knowledge, even if it did not seem like it. The importance of professional self-knowledge came from the fact that this process was precisely what allowed you to know your strengths and how to communicate them, your weaknesses and how to solve them, what distinguished you as a professional, or what professional goals you could aim toward.

In this online workshop, you can learn various techniques to effectively improve your self-awareness.

- 26/06/2024 Training session for PDI: 'Driving Philanthropy in University Research: strategies for cultivating successful relationships with private funders.'
The Vice-Rector's Office for Research, Innovation and Knowledge Transfer, together with the Corporate Development Department, organised a training course for lecturers, researchers, and doctoral students that addressed key concepts and effective strategies for establishing and maintaining valuable and lasting relationships with private funders to ensure a positive and sustainable impact on university research.
